ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

SIR EDWARD WATKIN EXPRESSES HIS OPINION OF THE C. P. R.

Sir Edward Watkin one of the largest shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway, passed through Toronto yesterday morning on an official car of that line on his way to Montreal. Sir Edward intends sailing from New York for England on Saturday on board the Cunard steamer Etruria. He only arrived in Montreal from England on the 15th of last month, and since then has on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

CROSSED THE CONTINENT

The train to which the official car was attached was between three and four hours late in arriving here, owing to steam having run down, which rendered a change of locomotives necessary near Sarnia.

Sir Edward only remained in Toronto for about twenty minutes, during which time he partook of a hurried breakfast and held a short conversation with a Globe reporter.

"Are you favorably impressed with what you have seen of the C. P. R., Sir Edward?" asked the reporter.

"Very much so. It is a very good American line, but not what we would call a good line in England. English and American railways however, are totally different concerns. I think that where the road skirts the head of Lake Superior is

THE COLDEST WORK

I have ever seen. The line from Calgary to the level of the Kicking Horse River, through the pass of that name, and down the mountain side, is also very fine. Where the road follows the Beaver River to the Selkirk Mountains, and from thence to a place called Glazier, 3,700 feet above the level of the sea, is another fine stretch. At Kicking Horse Pass, the highest point on the C. P. R. the elevation is 5,200 feet as against 3,200 on the Union Pacific line, giving the Canadian road, as you can see, a considerable advantage. We went by way of Port Moody to Victoria and Vancouver. From Victoria I went over to Nanaimo. It is 75 miles long, and is a good line. It is owned by Mr. Dunsmuir and Mr. Crocker, the latter being one of the Vice-Presidents of the Union Pacific. At Esquimalt harbor, two miles from Victoria, on the west side of the Island, a new graving dock 430 feet long, has just been completed. I was very much pleased with Sir Alex. Galt's coal fields at Dunmore. To reach them I travelled 110 miles by a narrow guage railway to Lethbridge. The coal which is bituminous and highly inflamable, will prove, I am satisfied, very valuable. I think that in other localities, as I have no doubt that it is plentiful and only needs to be discovered."

THE NEW RAILWAY

COAL SHOULD BE BORED FOR

"Has your visit to this country anything to do with the increasing ocean mail facilities, Sir Edward?"

"No; but I think that in the interests of the public there should be such. The British Government ought to be pressed to make the C. P. R. their great military and postal highway. I think that with some improvements the trip from Quebec to Vancouver can be made in 100 hours and that would be such an improvement over sending troops by way of the Suez Canal that one would suppose the Imperial Government would snap at it."

"Do you think there is any probability of an amalgamation between the Grand Trunk and C. P. R?"

"Amalgamation would be the correct thing, I am sure, but I don't think the public would have it. It is one of those good things which the people are not sensible enough to agree to. There is always a great deal of talk about monopolies, and nonsense of that sort, but there is nothing in that objection. If the roads were amalgamated there would be a large saving in working expenses, and it would be altogether a decided improvement." —Globe.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

Canada Apologizes for the Flag Incident.

Russia Believed to Contemplate War.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—It is rumored that all the government manufactories and arsenals are to be run continuously day and night; on the work of converting the Mauser rifles, the weapons at present in use by the army, into repeating rifles holding ten cartridges each.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Star's London cable special says: Division of the European powers still leaves Russia, to a certain extent, mistress of the situation in Bulgaria. Reports of continued massing of troops in Bessarabia are still received, but peaceable people are of the opinion that the cold season is now too near at hand for the commencement of operations before the spring of 1877. Jingoes take the view that Russia intends to prolong the controversy until winter, and then suddenly march an overwhelming force into Bulgaria and occupy all the strategic points desired, holding them secure from attack all winter, in order to commence the spring campaign, if resistance should then be offered, with all the advantage accruing from the possession of strong advanced positions.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13—Chief Operator West, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has received the following message from the operator at Orange: "The town of Sabine Pass was totally destroyed by the waters of the Sabine river last night. There are known to be sixty-five lives lost. Last night, during the overflow, a hotel with fifteen or twenty people in it, was swept out into the bay and every one of the inmates were drowned. The captain of a schooner, from there to-day, says that not a house is left in the whole country, and every living thing was drowned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Further advices have been received by the State Department to-day touching the action of the Canadian authorities in hauling down the American flag on the schooner Marion Grimes. The facts as officially stated, are that the anniversary of the birthday of the captain of the Grimes occurred while his vessel was in the custody of the Canadian officers, and he celebrated that event by hoisting the American flag over his vessel. The Canadian customs officers have confessed that a mistake was made in summarily lowering the colors, and have expressed regret at the occurrence, and, as the Grimes has been released, no further notice is likely to be taken of the case by the Department of State.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—It seems probable that Abram S. Hewitt will accept the Tammany Hall nomination, and the democrats of New York will, for the first time in six years, present a united front. Robert G. Ingersoll has announced himself in favor of the election of Henry George. He advises the republicans to indorse and vote for the labor candidate. The committee appointed by Tammany Hall waited upon Congressman Hewitt this afternoon. Hewitt invited them into his private office, and a long discussion and conference was held. When it was ended the committee came out with downcast faces and hurried away. It is generally believed that Hewitt has declined the nomination for mayor.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Miss Guenin, aged 22 years, daughter of F. Guenin, who keeps a bakery, shot herself in the right temple, at her father's place, while laboring under temporary insanity. It was learned that she was infatuated with a young man whom her father had forbidden her to marry. The disappointment at times affected her reason, and it is believed that her act was the result of her troubles. The doctors think she cannot recover.

For Sale.

The whole or a one-half interest in the valuable business known as THE BRITISH COLUMBIA EMPLOYMENT BUREAU AND BUSINESS AGENCY. Fully established. The goodwill, title, agencies, fixtures, furniture and outstanding claims. All liabilities paid. The firm name can be used if so desired. It has over 200 patrons including leading contractors, mill companies, etc., and several thousand dollars worth of saleable properties on the books. The business is well known all through this continent. The offices are well situated and with good living rooms attached. Most satisfactory reasons given for selling. The present proprietor has expended over a thousand dollars in advertising this agency in the last year. This is an opportunity for some one, and might suit an energetic couple. For particulars call or address J. F. Pickering, proprietor B. C. E. Bureau and B. Agency, Fort street. 1w.

Mother Carey's Salve.

A valuable little ointment for Sores, Burns, Wounds, Piles, Fistula or Sore Bunions and Corns. Does not draw like other salves, but is soothing and cooling. 22nov LANGLEY & Co., Agents.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind. ap9-eod-dw

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 15TH, 1886.

A PITIFUL STORY.

There is well grounded apprehension in England that the coming winter will be one of great distress among the working classes. There has been very little improvement in the state of trade, and there is already a great lack of work even for skilled labour. It has been suggested that it is absolutely necessary that relief works should be organized at once, and the Pall Mall Gazette, under the heading "Digging v. Begging," publishes a synopsis of the report of the Wandsworth and Clapham Union on their experiment in that direction last year. It says: "The report shows very clearly (1) how great was the distress, (2) how small was the expense of relieving, and then (3) suggests how desirable it would be to always substitute work for doles, digging for begging." The works at Wandsworth consisted of executing the foundations for the proposed new building for extending the workhouse, and in digging for sand, ballast, etc. About two hundred men a day were employed, at least thirty of them being workmen of various trades, and the wages paid were 2s. 6d. per day of eight hours. It is suggested that in future instances of widespread distress, similar relief works should be conducted, and the distribution of charitable funds should be given in payment for work done rather than as a dole. In the same connection a melancholy interest attaches to the tale told by a mechanic, in the same issue of the Gazette, of a month's experience in search of work. On August 9th he left London and walked to Luton, thirty miles. At the foundries there he was told next day that they had no work for their own men. He then walked to Bedford, where he received the same answer to his inquires, and went on to Northampton, which he reached with 10½d. in his pocket, having had only one meal that day. Next day he was again told that no work was to be had, so he walked on all night, arriving at Birmingham on the morning of the 12th. Still he could find nothing to do, and was told that trade was as bad as it had been for three years. Having no money left, and having been without food all day, he begged for enough to obtain a night's shelter, but, only raising 2½d., he was obliged to sleep in an unfinished building. The next five days he spent in looking for work in Birmingham, being without food two days and sleeping in an outhouse three nights. His only sustenance during this time was a few pieces of bread which he begged. Thence he walked to Burton-on-Trent and Derby, living on the proceeds of a shilling given him by some men in a foundry. At neither place could he get employment; and he walked through rain thirty-six miles to Sheffield, arriving there on the 20th. The next day he spent looking in vain for work, and without anything to eat. He begged enough money to pay for his lodgings for the night. The next four days were spent in Sheffield and the neighboring districts. A large colliery owner to whom the unfortunate man was directed told him that he had not enough work for one-half of his men. He gave him, however, a shilling, which paid for two meals and a bed. On the 26th he walked thirty-eight miles to Nottingham, having made up his mind to get back to London. In a field on the road he found two small turnips, which constituted his food for the day. He knew Nottingham well, having worked there before, and found a friend who furnished him with food and a bed for two days. At one factory, at which formerly from eighty to one hundred hands were employed, only seven were at work, making about twenty-seven hours a week. On the evening of the 31st, he arrived at Leicester, and slept under a hayrick. During the next day he received 8d. for putting a load of coal into a cellar and was thereby enabled to obtain food and a night's lodging. Still no other work was to be had, and the next day the poor man walked on to Coventry, eating on the road a few blackberries from the hedges. He there sold two pairs of socks and his shirt for 9d. and got a bed. At none of the bicycle works could he find employment, being told that they were more likely to discharge their workmen than take on any more. On September 2 he walked to Northampton, where he sold his waistcoat for a shilling to buy food and lodging. He again tried in vain for work, and then started for London, which he reached after walking two days and two nights without any sustenance but water and blackberries. This is indeed a pitiful story, and it illustrates very forcibly the sad condition of affairs among English workingmen. The writer states further that his experiences have convinced him that fully six-tenths of the working classes in England are out of employment. It is little wonder then that philanthropists are urging the establishment of works which will give these poor people relief, and at the same time save them from the humiliation of living on charity.

THE MAYOR ABANDONS THE FORT.

The attitude of his worship at the city council meeting on Wednesday evening caused an early dissolution of the meeting, and the laying over of some very important business. From the first we have maintained that the mayor has not only a right to the casting vote—he is also obliged to cast it. The law says "shall," not "may." It is imperative not permissive. Frequently acts of parliament read: "It shall be lawful" for a judge to do thus and so. It has been held (the authorities are many) that the judge is obliged to perform an act under that reading just as if the statute had read he "shall" do so and so. The mayor, who would seem to have made a law unto himself, declines—refuses to vote and in the midst of the hubbub waltzes off to Winnipeg. The council will meet this evening and appoint a chairman; but how can he give the casting vote having voted already? We can see no way out of the difficulty short of the supreme court and a writ of mandamus.

Answer to Paterfamilias.

TO THE EDITOR:—Over the signature of "Paterfamilias" appears in your issue of yesterday a fling at those who are trying to do more good than "Paterfamilias." The true inwardness of his complaint would seem to be simply this—some one near and dear to him has been caught in those pitfalls for youth, and the silly pater instead of having the manliness to come forward and advocate temperance reform writes to complain forsooth that the Blue Ribbon club has not succeeded in warding off the evil that has hit him so close. If the temperance people are not doing their duty would it not be more in keeping with the eternal fitness of things that Paterfamilias put his shoulder to the wheel and by his presence and advice try to set them on the right path? THREE LITTLE MAIDS FOR SALE AT T. N & Co's, PRICE 35 CENTS.

Y. M. C. A.

The New Apartments to be Formally Opened Next Week.

The progress of the Y. M. C. A. of this city is very flattering to that organization and a credit to Victoria. There are at present 215 members, and it is expected that the number will be doubled when the new rooms are occupied and all the devices for recreation provided there are known to our young men. The new quarters are well suited to the needs of the society, and as a resort for young men to pass pleasant and profitable evenings they cannot well be improved. Here will be found the surroundings and conveniences of a home at a merely nominal cost. The new apartments are reached from the Broad street side of the Arcade, and the various rooms have a floor area of 150x30 feet, embracing the office, library, reading room and the gymnasium. The library is one of the best for general use in the province, and contains 500 volumes, while the adjoining reading room has over seventy leading magazines, newspapers and periodicals, to which others will be constantly added. The gymnasium will prove a great attraction to many young men, who will enjoy the excellent muscle-giving appliances, including boxing-gloves, chest exercisers and expanders, bars, flying-rings, clubs, bells, and other amusing contrivances of the most improved make. The room will be open for athletic sports four nights in the week, the other two being reserved for entertainments, which will be held regularly every two weeks. The first will be a conversazione by the ladies of the Reformed Episcopal church, taking place on the second Tuesday in November. A room is to be fitted up for the exclusive use of the boys' branch, comprising members from ten to sixteen years of age. The parlor for members is handsomely furnished and presents an air of home comfort that will prove relief for many young men who have left all their home influences thousands of miles behind, and wandered to the shores of the Pacific in quest of fortune and a successful future. On this one point hundreds of young lives are turned either to the bad, or to the bright path of duty with a desire for the approval of warm Christian friends. There are at least two hundred young men in Victoria to-day who have not known the genial influences of a home life for many months. Outside of business hours their existence is solitary and the long evening hours hang heavy. They find no pleasure in going to their lonesome room, and what is left but to seek some resort where companions of any kind would be more welcome than to pass the evening alone. Too often the saloons become a haunt of these young men who gradually become hardened to the rough elements of the places, and all desire, for the quiet fire side among kind loving hearts is forever eliminated. The new quarters of the Y. M. C. A. will be a God-send indeed to this class of young men who will naturally go to the rooms, and finding them more inviting than questionable resorts, a reformation will in many instances be unconsciously made upon the young man by himself. All the apartments will be heated by steam and lighted by electric light, and preparations are nearly completed for the opening concert on next Wednesday evening when the new rooms will be formally dedicated. The cost of membership is only $5 per annum, including the use of the baths, gymnasium, library, reading room, a member is also admitted to the lecture courses and socials. The society a member meets is the best and he finds congenial companions, warm friends, and the good influence will help to elevate his manhood and give him a better opinion of himself. With all this will be the desire to retain the respect and good will of his companions and he is cautious about any action likely to revert to his discredit in the association. The rooms will be open every day from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., closing on Sunday's at 6 p.m., and are presided over by Mr. J. J. Daley, the general secretary, who has ever been a zealous worker in the cause of christian happiness and good fellowship. His welcome to strangers is always cordial, and we feel assured that every right-thinking young man who visits the new rooms will become a member of the association, as its worldly benefits as well as its christian influence must be manifest to all. It is a moral educator, needed in every enlightened community, and one that in a great measure mould the society of a city. Members of the ladies' auxiliary society of the Y. M. C. A. were busily engaged yesterday in fitting up the parlor, which they have furnished beautifully at their own expense, $200 being contributed for that purpose. Much credit is due Mr. E. H. Fisher, the well known architect, who generously furnished all the inside designs without charge.

The Lytton Phillipic.

TO THE EDITOR:—After reading two columns last evening, purporting to be a condensed report of Mr. Justice Walkem's address to the grand jury at Lytton, and your leader this morning on the same subject, I for one am at a loss to understand what Mr. Walkem is driving at. Why should our learned puisne judge give way so suddenly to an attack of cacoethes loquendi? Has it been brought on by a sincere regard for the chief justice and a desire to protect him from the uncalled for remarks of Judge Strong? I for one cannot think so. Mr. Walkem, in the old days, was never known to do or say the slightest thing without a motive. It is in order, then, to ask what is the motive here? Mr. Walkem's opinion of the supreme court judges, individually and collectively, appears to have greatly improved since his own elevation to the bench. That is only right and modest. Since retiring from the leadership of the government, Mr. Walkem's opinion as to the impartiality of the provincial bench, and its acumen to deal with local statutes have turned a complete somersault. In 1882 he—the only lawyer in the house—introduced and passed the Exchequer Court Act, which considerably curtailed the jurisdiction of our judges. The reason given was so fast as acts were passed by the provincial house they were upset by the supreme court. This implied that the house of assembly, with one lawyer, was right, and the supreme court were ignorant of the principles of constitutional law. On calling to mind some of the acts of the Walkem government, one feels thankful that the chief justice and his colleagues had the courage of their convictions and smashed them. With regard to his honor the chief justice, he is well able to take care of himself. Being conscious of his own integrity he can afford to pass over scurrilous newspaper items and any opprobrious remarks let fall by a member of the supreme court of Canada, with the contempt they deserve. Mr. Walkem appears to have acted on the principle in vogue at courts-martial—the junior member giving his opinion first. It is now in order for the Hon. Messrs. McCreight, Gray and Crease to favor the community with four or five columns each in the local prints and thereby bring this Strong nuisance to a clever finish.

UNITED STATES.

Has President Gonzales Been Assassinated.

The Shipwrecked Crew of the Dumrotter Castle.

Terrific Gale at Fort Wayne—The Storm at Sabine Pass and Johnson Bayou.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 14.—A special rom El Paso says that a report is in circulation here to the effect that ex-President Gonzales of Mexico has been assassinated in the interior, but as the exact location where the supposed crime occurred cannot be ascertained the report is received with considerable doubt. Other startling rumors are afloat here to the effect that the government of Mexico is again struggling to suppress the insurrection movement. A Mexican official said this afternoon that he had positive information that over twenty persons had just been shot at Fresnillo Town in the state of Zaccete Caba by the order of the Mexican government. The officer also said he heard a rumor that Romeo Rubio, minister of the interior and father-in-law of President Diaz had disappeared while out riding in the suburbs of the City of Mexico and that he is supposed to have been kidnapped by insurgents.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—A special from Sherman, Texas, says: Late advices from the Indian Territory state that the most extensive and destructive fires ever known in that territory are sweeping over the prairies. Millions of acres of rich grazing lands, which a few days ago were covered with a luxuriant growth of grass, are now bare, charred wastes. The area burned over extends from Vinita on the north to Muscoga on the south, on either side of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway as far as the eye can see. A large number of cattle have been burned to death and immense quantities of hay destroyed.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—A special from Orange, Tex., says: The details of the destruction by a storm at Sabine Pass and Johnson Bayou come in slowly and are yet indefinite, though they all agree that there has been great loss of life and property. Two brothers named Pomeroy were picked up by the schooner Andrew Baden in Sabine lake. They had been in the water 36 hours clinging to their yawl. Their mother, sister and Mrs. Captain Sunker, her son and a little girl of the party were lost. The Pomeroys report that fifty lives were lost at Porter house where the people had collected as the best place of safety. It went to pieces at 9 o'clock. Many persons are missing. Still greater loss is reported from Johnson bayou; whole families are swept away and not a house was left standing within five miles of the lake. Parties were organized last night and left on the steamers Lamar and Emily P. Welch with provisions and bedding. They are expected back to-night when further particulars will be obtained.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 14.—Bark Coral and schooner Page of the whaling fleet have arrived in port from the north. The Coral brings a cargo of 460 barrels of oil and 5,000 lbs. of whalebone. The Page has 130 barrels of oil and 1,100 lbs. of whalebone. Previous reports about the poor catch are confirmed by the officers of these vessels.

Steamer Wilmington, which arrived to-night from Honolulu, brings additional particulars regarding the shipwrecked crew of the ship Dumrotter Castle, which became a total loss on Ocean or Cure Island, July 15th. There also arrived on her as passengers the mate of the Dumrotter Castle and three of the crew, who made 52 days voyage in open boat from Cure Island to the Sandwich Islands in order to obtain aid for their companions, 22 in number, who remained on Cure Island. It is learned that the steamer Waieale which was fitted out under the auspices of the Hawaiian government, and Major K. P. Woolhouse, British commissioner, left Honolulu September 20th. A bottle was found on the island which contained a note dated August 18th. It stated that the men of the Dumrotter Castle after being on the island 33 days were taken off by the ship Birnam Wood, of St. John, N. B., bound from Hongkong to Valparaiso and that they expected to be landed at the latter place. The note was signed "H. A. Martin, master ship Dumrotter Castle." Before the Waieale started on her return, Col. Jas. H. Boyd, special commissioner of the Hawaiian government, held possession of the island in the name of his government, and planted the Hawaiian flag there. The Waieale arrived at Honolulu again on September 29th.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Ont. 14.—A dispatch from Fort Wayne states that a terrific gale from the south passed over that city this afternoon and at 2 o'clock raged in full force. Some of the principal buildings were unroofed. Shortly before 2 o'clock fire broke out in the outskirts of the city and at the time the dispatch was sent, about 2 p. m., five frame dwellings were in flames, with a gale spreading the conflagration.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 14.—A terrific gale, accompanied by rain, set in here this afternoon and continues with great fury. At midnight the wind is blowing 65 miles per hour. The "Island," inhabited by squatters, is flooded and the waters pour in huge waves over it. Twenty-nine houses have been totally destroyed and over 100 persons are homeless. The people are moving their household effects to the mainland. Officers were sent to relieve the family of Charles Lambert. Lambert was saved but his wife and daughter were drowned. Several others are reported missing. The basement houses on Canal street are flooded; Michigan and Main streets are flooded, 700 feet from the dock. Ohio street is completely flooded. All the lumber yards on the island are wrecked. The damage to shipping is very great. Barges are floating over Evan's dock and a number are reported smashed. This evening the rear wall of the new music hall went down with a crash. No one was injured.

CABLE NEWS.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The fourth day of the Newmarket second October meeting the champion stake was won by the Duke of Westminster's three year old colt Ormandes, Mr. Manton's three year old colt Oberon second, and Prince Zoltikoff's three year old filly Argo Navis third. Her Majesty's plate was won by Major Brace's five year old horse St. Gatien; Mr. Vinner's four year old filly Stone Clink second; Mr. Lambert's four year old colt Shelby third. St. Gatien won by three lengths.

The coal mine owners of Fifeshire, Scotland, refuse to concede the demands of the miners for an increase of ten per cent. in wages. The miners throughout Scotland are in favor of a general lock-out unless the miners abate their demands. Thirty-five hundred miners would be involved in such a lock-out.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

SALISBURY, Md., Oct. 9.—Rev. J. U. Ponnell, a member of the Maryland Methodist Protestant conference, 76 years of age, yesterday took his own life in a most singular manner. He knelt down by the railroad track while a freight train was passing, and as the last car reached him, laid his head on the rail. The hindmost truck passed over his neck and severed his head from his body. Mr. Ponnell was a retired clergyman and one of the wealthiest men in the village. His mind is believed to have become deranged recently.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 9.—A most remarkable story, occupying three columns, is published in to-day's Journal, of this city. The writer's name is Capt. Thos. White, who styles himself "late of Her Majesty's Cape mounted rifles, Cape Town, Africa." The narrative is to the effect that recently a scheme was perfected to kidnap W. H. Vanderbilt, take him to sea or some out-of-the-way place, and in the general lowering of the price of stocks that would ensue the promoters of the scheme would get in on the low market. Then Mr. Vanderbilt was to be released, the market would go up and those who had bought stock would realize fortunes. In case the market failed to become affected by the kidnapping, Vanderbilt was to be compelled to give $1,500,000 to his captors and forever remain quiet on pain of death. The scheme, so the story says, failed because of the cowardice at the last moment of one of the leaders in the project. The narrator who tells the story says that over a year ago he received a letter asking if he was willing to engage in an exciting undertaking.

Eastern Canada Mail.

(Per Canadian Pacific Railway.)

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—M. Lescelle was severely injured yesterday at Hochelaga wharf by a lot of timber falling on him. He died from the effects of his injuries.

A Frenchman, Marcel Meyer, aged 25, who arrived here two months ago, attempted suicide by shooting in Viger Gardens to-day. He is in a precarious condition.

Contractor Dunn and his clerks were attacked by a number of Italian navvies armed with knives and revolvers for asking them to wait till regular pay day for their pay. The men were engaged in the construction of the Canadian Pacific short line between Chaughnawaga reserve and St. John's, and were discharged. No lives were lost, but Dunn's clerk had his cheek ripped open. The two ringleaders were arrested

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—The body of a man was found floating in the canal this afternoon. On his person was found a breastpin with the name of John Howick engraved upon it.

It is stated on good authority that the Grand Trunk authorities will not co-operate with the Canadian Pacific in the projected union station here. Tenders for the new Grand Trunk station will be called for to-day.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 10.—The Canadian Pacific railway station here was burned at an early hour this morning.

MEDICINE HAT, Oct. 10.—J. Ranch had three horses stolen by Indians last night. The police are doing their level best to prevent this thieving, but the force at present is not large enough.

MCLEOD, Oct. 8.—The most reliable information to hand is that no Bloods are now in Montana. Eight returned yesterday and reported that six Bloods had been killed by cowboys for shooting a steer, and not by Gros Ventres as reported. In consequence of this a council was held, and the Indians decided not to go south.

THE BRITISH CABINET.

A General Shuffle to be Made Before Parliament Meets Again.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Several important ministerial changes will take place when the cabinet reassembles next month. Henry Chaplin is to be reappointed chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, with a seat in the cabinet, as Lord John Manners is so much out of health, he is no longer equal to the fatigues imposed upon an official member of the Commons. Mr. Balfour will likewise obtain a seat in the cabinet. Stanley's retirement will enable Lord Salisbury to promote Mr. Ritchie to the presidency of the board of trade. It is probable that Mr. Ritchie's present position will be offered to Sir Matthew White Ridley.

IMPORTED PAUPERISM.

Montreal Made a Dumping Ground for Pauper Immigrants

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—Much indignation is felt over the government's action in dumping pauper immigrants here. A batch of 54 Roumanians, ex-steamship Sarnia, perfectly helpless, and utterly penniless, remained for a week cooped up in two small rooms in the provincial immigration office, to depend on charity for support. They were all either too feeble through old age, or too young to work. The few of them physically able to earn a living know no trade and are thus as helpless as the others. One woman, a helpless widow, has eight children, all of whom are too young to work. None of the immigrants speak either French or English.

Letters Detained for Postage at Victoria P. O.

October 14, 1886.

Mr. Fournier, Sooke
Wells, Fargo & Co., Seattle
Mrs Walker, Esquimalt
Kwong, Joy & Co., Kamloops
Chas. W. Fry, Grant City, Mo.

Personal.

Hon. Mr. Cross, one of the directors of the C. P. R. and party are at the Driard.

Mrs. Ferguson, of Vancouver, is at Roccabella.

Mr. B. F. English, rancher from Deer Park, Chilcoten, accompanied by his wife, arrived down on Wednesday night.

At the Occidental: Edward Clarke, Bangkok; Miss Peare, Seattle.

At the Driard: Jno. Clemens, R. Marsh, New York; A. B. Forbes, San Francisco: A. S. Levoke, Tacoma; S. G. Mitchell, New York.

Major Dupont was reported to be seriously ill last night.

Mrs. Gore, wife of the surveyor-general, had a dangerous fall at the Agricultural hall last Saturday, which resulted in her shoulder being dislocated.

Mr. H. S. Flood, representing Feigenbaum & Co., of San Francisco, is at the Driard.

Mr. Ford, formerly of the firm of Ford and Babcock, the first agents of the P. C. S. S. Co., is at the Driard.

Mr. W. Power, of Moodyville, Capt. Tom Wright, D. A. McFarland and Capt. McPhadden and wife, were passengers by the steamer Princess Louise from the mainland last night.

Mr. B. Young, T. R. Parson, E. and J. Kirkland and C. Todd were passengers by the steamer R. P. Rithet yesterday from the Mainland.

Hon. John Robson was a passenger to the mainland by the steamer Princess Louise this morning.

Steamship Mexico, off the outer wharf yesterday morning, proceeded to Port Moody for a cargo of coal oil for San Francisco.

German bark Bylgia, Capt. Weiss, 41 days from Hiogo, Japan, passed up the Inlet on Wednesday, tea laden.

A telegram states that the steamship Empire will not leave San Francisco till Saturday next, as her machinery is undergoing some repairs.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 —Cleared—Steamer Queen of the Pacific, Port Townsend.

British bark Cyprus, Captain Jones, which arrived at Royal Roads on the 6th inst. from Panama, arrived at Port Townsend on Saturday last and anchored in the harbor. The vessel is chartered to load lumber at Burrard Inlet.

British bark, City of Aberdeen, has completed taking in her cargo of lumber at Hastings mill. She is anchored in the harbor awaiting the arrival of a tug to tow her out to sea.

FIRE AT CEDAR HILL.—At twelve o'clock last night the sky was illumined by a large fire, apparently in the northern part of the city, and an alarm was sounded. The fire department responded, but the scene of the conflagration was found to be about three miles to the north of the Lion Brewery in the neighborhood of Cedar Hill. Chief Phillips went part of the way, but turned back on finding that the fire was out of the district. It was believed to be the large barns at the Twin Oak dairy, owned by Mr. Chaffee, or on the Oakland farm.

THE NEW INSURANCE BONDS.

A Life Policy that Becomes a Negotiable Security.

The science of life insurance is varied and multifarious in its inducements to policy holders, and among the many companies represented in Victoria none are so liberal in bestowing profits to the insured as the Citizens' Company, of Canada. Although several good risks are offered by this company the most popular is the life endowment bond payable at the ages of 55, 60, or 65. These bonds are a good investment as well as an insurance in case of death, at reasonable rates. They are a negotiable security and after the third payment are non-forfeitable. A fifteen year bond for $5,000 with a premium of $317, in the second year is worth $280, the fifth year $880, the thirteenth year $3,835. That is, it is first-class security at any bank for the above amount, and in the fifteenth year it is worth $5,000, and with the tontine results estimated represents $7,750. So it will be seen that a handsome profit has been made, and in case the policy holder has had occasion to borrow money it has served him doubly. These bonds are being taken as a good business investment by many of our leading citizens, as well the regular life policies. There is also an endowment class for children payable at the age of 21 years whice are invaluable, as in this manner for a few dollars each year a parent can provide capital for a son to start in business, or a dowry for a daughter. The special mercantile policies applicable to partnerships of every description. That is, five persons take a policy for $10,000 between them, and if any one of the five die the insurance money is divided among the remaining four. The Citizens' Company is one of the most solid institutions in Canada with a capital of $1,188,000, and the general agents of the company for the Pacific coast are Messrs. Hart, Imrie & Densereau, Victoria, Theatre block, corner of View and Douglas streets, where all information will be furnished and the public are invited to inspect the details.

WEEKLY COLONIST.—The Weekly Colonist, the largest and best publication in the province, is issued this morning. In addition to containing all telegraphic news received at the last moment before the departure of the steamer for the Mainland, The Weekly Colonist supplies a complete epitome of local information. It also contains a complete prize list of the Provincial, Cowichan, Salt Spring Island and Chemainus agricultural exhibitions. Twodollars per annum; single copies, ready for mailing, ten cents.

NEW WESTMINSTER.—A man named English got his foot caught in a frog at Port Moody this morning and was run over by a train. His foot was badly mashed.—Ten car loads of coal oil from eastern states are now coming over the C P. R for San Francisco. They are expected at Port Moody in a few days.—The gas works are now nearing completion and it is expected the illuminator will be turned on next week.

VICTORIA DRIVING PARK.—Some sport may be expected at the Victoria driving park on the 23d inst., when Jack Sangster's horse "Dart" tries odds with Charlie Hart's "Johnny Nutt" for $100 a side. The race is a mile and repeat, best 2 in 3. There is little doubt that a fine trial of speed will be witnessed, and the match is decidedly "on the square." What'll you bet?

AN ACCIDENT.—Master Roy Green, son of A. A. Green, Esq., while out riding at Foul Bay Wednesday last, was thrown from his horse and sustained a serious fracture of the right arm near the elbow.

CHINESE EXODUS.—The bark Alden Besse, Capt. O'Brien, which sails from Esquimalt on Saturday morning, carries about 207 Chinese to Hongkong.

EAST BOUND PASSENGERS, going to the States or Canada through Chicago should take the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway from St. Paul. *

REMEMBER THE GREAT SALE GOING ON AT THE OLD BANK.

ALONG THE ROAD.

Ups and Downs of the Road to Soda Creek.

The Magnificent Ranches Along the Fraser River.

(From our Traveling Correspondent.)

We are awake at five o'clock in the morning and at six o'clock again mount to our seat, the air being very cold. We soon commence the ascent of Carpenter mountain, a high hill lying between the 150 and Deep creek. We pass the proprietor of a mule pack train hunting up his animals for a fresh start. He did not look the picture of comfort, his coat buttoned up to his chin, his nose blue with cold, whip under arm and hands in pocket, as he plodded through the wet grass and undergrowth. However, we saw him locate the mule with the bell around its neck, and knew he was safe, for he had only to lead that mule and all others would follow. A well trained pack mule than stray out of hearing of the bell-mule.

There are lakes and good grass feed for summer on Carpenter mountain, but the growth of trees is similar to that we passed through in the "green timber," though vegetation, on account of the greater rainfall, is more luxuriant. At various points we catch glimpses of the lovely valley passed the day before, and wonder why it is that the road does not follow its course. A little questioning enlightens us. Had the wagon road branched off to the northwestward from Felker's, six miles below the 150, and run through Williams lake valley, and then along the Fraser river, an almost level grade the entire distance would have been secured, a good farming section tapped, and the distance a trifle lessened. Instead of this it climbs over Carpenter mountain into Deep creek valley, runs in this a few miles, then there is a long ascent to the summit of the road on the hill between Deep creek and Soda creek and a very steep descent to the latter. Had the Williams lake valley been followed the distance could be accomplished in one half the time and a great saving thus made and also in horse-flesh and wagon repairs. As it is settlers in Williams lake have secured a sleigh road from that point by a moderately easy grade to Deep creek and by this save a day in hauling goods to Soda creek. Should there ever again be a large hauling trade over the Cariboo road, the diverging of the line by the course mentioned would be a necessity.

DEEP CREEK

was formerly a noted stopping place, and many are the stories told of the man who kept the hotel at that point. There are still remaining the ruins of the buildings, a heavy freshet having swept through the valley some years ago destroying everything in its course. The former fine ranche is now a reserve for the Soda creek Indians. It is fenced westward for miles and grows magnificent crops of wild hay. The Indians do not cultivate it in any other way—they merely cut hay and sell it, allowing their own cattle to look out for themselves at all times, winter or summer.

It took our horses a long time to climb the steep hill from Deep creek, and it was near noon when we at last sighted Soda Creek far beneath on the small bench along the side of the Fraser river. The descent to this was very steep, and if the brake had given way it would have resulted in our destruction, but our driver had his foot planted squarely on it, and held the heavy coach in check. We cross a wooden bridge over a deep chasm formed by Soda creek, a small stream, utilized to drive a flouring mill near its mouth, owned by Mr. J. F. Hawkes, whose rancho we catch a glimpse of from the hill.

At last we pull up in front of hotel and store, and are given a hearty welcome by familiar faces. Soda creek consists of the usual buildings to be found at all stopping places on the road, though here is carried on a larger trade with Indians, magnificent furs from the surrounding country being secured in large quantity. The other hotel and trading store is that kept by Mr. Robert McLeese, M. P. P., where is also the postoffice, the telegraph office being between the two hotels. There are Chinese stores, for in many places in the near neighborhood are numerous Celestials individually or in companies working old bars or new benches, in some instances bringing water a distance of ten or twelve miles for the purpose of washing the banks.

We secure here another passenger in the person of Mr. W. Craib, an old California mining man on his way to Barkerville to look at the quartz. At dinner we sample some home-cured ham, of the finest quality—another of the luxuries of the far interior. The cook at this hotel is a six-foot Celestial and the day before our arrival he was sworn in as a British subject by Mr. Justice Walkem, whom we had met at Deep creek being driven to Clinton assizes in a special of the stage company. The horses are changed here, and a pretty lively team are harnessed up. The leaders balk and prance around, and receive a lashing from the whip. This has the effect of generally mixing the horses and harness, and we begin to feel a trifle nervous as to the result. Finally they start, the leaders rearing on their hind legs, and at last breaking into a mad galop. But the steep hill soon settles their energy and by the time we reach the top they are content to trot along at a good speed. We have also had a change of drivers, Mr. Tate the younger this time handling the ribbons. We pass Mr. Dunlevy's ranche, as fine a piece of land as ever eye looked upon, running for two miles along the wagon road and stretching from this to the river, 1,200 acres altogether under fence. There is plenty of water for irrigation purposes, and magnificent crops of grain and roots are raised, though, as everywhere else in Cariboo the farm is not cultivated to half its capacity. Besides this ranche Mr. Dunlevy has a magnificent stretch of grazing land. Jno. Mackin's and McLean's ranches are passed, the road winding through a timbered country on the benches near the river.

AT THE STEAMBOAT LANDING

we see the old stern wheel steamer now hauled out, the property of Mr. McLeese. This steamer has done good service in freighting in the old days, and looks as though it was still equal to an emergency. The navigation of the Fraser from Soda creek to Quesnelle and further on is excellent, the river being wide and deep, a great contrast to its rugged character south of Soda creek. The banks on either side are gently rising benches, lightly covered with timber. We reach Alexandria where is the ranche owned by Mr. A. McInnes. This is also a postal station and the way-bag is re-assorted. Again we start, the site of old Fort Alexandria being pointed out to us a few miles further on.

From this point and for many miles we can easily note the character of the country on the opposite side of the river. The banks are low and the land rises in gentle benches, looking like giant steps to the distant mountains. Several miles from the river on a higher bench we can see the bright green fields of the ranch owned by Mr. W. Morrison, company's agent, at the 134. This ranche is over 1000 acres in extent and large crops of grain are raised without irrigating. There are in sight of similar land, very little other work being necessary than that of ploughing and sowing. This same condition of things exists on the east side of the river, for we pass over many thousands of acres of table land, and below us on lower benches is plenty more of the same character. When egress and ingress to this portion of the country becomes quicker and cheaper, and a market demands the production of greater crops, there is little doubt but that this section, which even now is clothed in pleasing wild beauty, will become a cultivated garden, the home of a thrifty people.

We pass the fine ranches of W. Freeman, D. Livingstone (nephew of the great African explorer) A. Clink's, Price's ranche, where the horses are given a drink from a mountain stream. Louis Curzon's rancho is a long stretch of well cultivated fields, fair crops being grown without irrigation. This can be said of many of the farms which we pass, though of course where irrigation is practicable, a heavier crop is secured, and in exceptionally dry seasons the husbandman is also sure of his crop. Further on we pass Ralph Shaw's lately taken up ranche already well fenced, and with fair crop this season. For a long distance we travel without meeting any cultivated stretches, and at last we come in sight of the owned and operated by Stephen Downes. This ranche presents the loveliest stretch of cultivated land that we have ever seen. It reaches from the wagon road to the Fraser River a mile, and is in width nearly a mile, 1,000 acres under fence, and a portion being protected by a steep bench forming a natural wall. The river is seen in the distance, and the varied tints of dark and light greens, bright and dark yellows where the grain and grass has been cut close to the ground, formed an immense natural table as level seemingly as though it had been planed. Another large ranche is owned a mile and a-half south of this one, but it is not being operated at present. The Australian ranche secures its name from having been taken up by parties from Australia, Mr. Downes having been here since '62. This year 200,000 pounds of grain and 100 tons of hay were harvested, while the root crops are of wonderful excellence. It is at this point that we secure a change of horses to carry us through to Quesnelle, the end of our 88 mile journey for the day. We also refresh the inner man from the abundance of good things provided. It is nearly six o'clock when we commence the ascent of the short hill leading to the top of the bench, from which point we can look down upon the lovely picture beneath us.

At a point a couple of miles further on the stage leaves the Cariboo road and takes that leading to the "Bohannon ranche," one of the oldest in the district. There are large residence and numerous outbuildings, while the ranche is chiefly in two immense level fields where magnificent crops have always been raised. Besides these, on the opposite side of the road, are other smaller fields. We run along this ranche for some considerable distance and again reach the old road, after which we twice pass fenced fields of large extent, principally for hay, belonging to the ranche. Night is upon us, but the moon sheds a soft light, and the long drive from Bohannon's to Quesnelle is enlivened by singing, racy stories, etc., our driver giving an inimitable Irish sketch. It is nearly eleven o'clock when our horses trot down the steep hill, the brake creaking with a noise worthy of a Red River cart. We cross over the Quesnelle river on a long wooden Howe truss bridge of substantial build, and in a few minutes draw up in front of Mr. James Reed's, M. P. P., the express agent at Quesnelle.

The Triumph Farewell Social.

The farewell social of the lodge "Triumph," I. O. G. T., was very largely attended on Wednesday evening, and proved a success and seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by all present. A plentiful supply of the good things of this life having been discussed the entertainment commenced by a few appropriate remarks by the chairman, the Rev. Mr. Morris, chaplain of H. M. S. Triumph, followed by a piano solo admirably rendered by Miss Bunting. Mr. Tribe then gave one of his own songs rendered in his able manner. "A Sailor's Yarn," by Mr. Tucker, was followed by a song from Mr. Rose, which was well given. Mr. Oram rendered "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" in an admirable manner. Miss E Jenkins then gave a recitation and Mr. McLean sang a comic song in character receiving an encore. The second part of the programme was commenced by a short address from Mr. Gray, Miss Howard rendering her song in very pleasing manner. Miss Penkith then sang "Nancy Lee" in very appropriate sailor's costume, and on receiving an encore sweetly sang "Far Away." Mr. Wright came next with a comic song which was so evidently enjoyed that he received an encore. Miss Arthur rendered "Gates of Rest" in a charming manner, followed by a solo on the concertina by Mr. McLean. Mr. Golding in the song "Jack's Return" did remarkably well. Miss Bunting again favored the audience with a song which was greatly enjoyed. "Larboard Watch," by the members was well received, as also were two songs by Mr. Morgan, and two also by Mr. Brown. The members then sang "Good Night, All's Well," and after a cordial vote of thanks had been accorded the chairman, the entertainment terminated with Vivat Regina. The proceeds will be devoted to the building of the new temperance hall.

Gen. Sherman's Opinion of the C. P. R.

In response to a letter from Capt. John Irving asking General Sherman his opinion of the great overland route from actual experience the following interesting letter was received from "Tecumseh" last night:

ARMY BUILDING, NEW YORK,
OCTOBER 7, 1886.

Jno. Irving, Esq., Manager Canadian Pacific R. R., Victoria, B. C.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 27, and in answer thereto to report that I and my daughter travelled from Victoria to Montreal by the newly finished Canadian Pacific, between the first and seventh of September last, making the trip on the schedule time of five days and seventeen hours in absolute safety and comfort.

As soon as I reached New York on September 9, I wrote to the general manager, Mr. Van Horne, of Montreal, my general opinion of the railroad and its management, which I considered most complimentary. For a new railroad it is one of the best of the five trans-continental lines now in successful operation. We reached every station almost to the very minute of the printed schedule, and at suitable points the train picked up dining cars in which the passengers were served meals as good as are usual to our best roads in the east. The sleeping cars were of the latest patterns, equal to Pullman's best; so that we reached Montreal without the least fatigue.

The scenery from Port Moody to Calgary surpasses in beauty and sublimity the corresponding divisions of the Northern or Central Pacific roads; from Calgary to Winnipeg occur the same plains formerly held by the buffaloes, now by neat cattle, which characterize all the railroads from the Rocky Mountains eastward; and from Winnipeg, eastward to Montreal, the country is so various with woods and lakes, that it would take more space to describe than I have on this sheet. I have no doubt that tourists to the Pacific coast will take this route going or returning, for years to come, until every mile of it is made familiar by actual observation or by the handsome photographs already prepared.

I sincerely wish all honor and profit to the men who have persevered and spent their millions in thus preparing a way to cross the continent in less than six days, a journey which only ten years ago cost a whole year of toil in birch canoes and on foot. I am, with great respect, your friend. W. T. SHERMAN.

A PASTORAL ROMANCE.

THE MAN WHO DID THE COURTING FOR THE FARM

Judge.

Lovely Miss Lucinda Tyler went to Farmer Hayseed's for the summer. The object of her visit was to secure rest and quiet. She decided to abstain from all social excitement, and at first she succeeded. After a while, however, her resolution gradually gave way, and she found herself indulging in a pleasant little flirtation with Farmer Hayseed's son John.

John was good looking and accommodating, and he did not object in the least to the effects of the city girl's fascinations. In fact, he rather seemed to like it, and when he got hold of her hand one evening--accidentally, of course, and gave it a little squeeze, the affair developed into something serious.

Of course Miss Tyler's affections were not permanently disabled, but she sympathized with the steady devotion of her admirer and encouraged him because she, like all women, fancied that sort of thing. Even Eve left poor old Adam for an hour or so to flirt with that very insinuating gentleman known as Beelzebub.

John's courtship was placid and unremitting. Everything he could do for Miss Tyler was done. It was therefore with regret that he saw the end of August approaching, for then she was to leave. He took her out riding. They entered a long, well-shaded, romantic-looking road, and almost before Miss Tyler knew anything John exclaimed with more or less emotion:

"I love you."

"This is very sudden," she replied.

"I hope you ain't mad about it."

"No; I don't know," and as she faltered his arm encircled her waist.

There was silence for a minute or two and then pity got the better of the dear girl's feelings, and she said softly:

"John, I should think you would get tired of the monotony of your life here."

"Yes; it is kind o' tiresome sometimes."

"Tell me what you do."

"You won't get mad about it?"

"Certainly not."

"Well, you know we run this farm in summer so as to make it pay enough to keep the family the rest of the year. Mam sees to the cooking; pap tends to the work outdoors, and they make me do all the love-makin' business."

"The love-making business?"

"Yes, that's what it amounts to. First with the boarders, you know, and make 'em believe that you've made a mash. First it was tough work, kind o' bashful, you know, and the first summer I only popped to two girls. The second summer I got up to six. Last season I reached a dozen, and this year --but say, you ain't mad about it are you?"

"No, dear John," and her head nestled fondly on his shoulder. "What a pretty hat you have! Let me hold it for you; and, dear John, how fine and soft your hair is." And she ran her fingers gently through his chestnut locks. Presently she put both hands up there, and after getting a good tight hold, she pulled with all the gathered strength of six week's vacation. John tried to yell, but he couldn't his breath forsook him. He tried to speak, but it was no go. The big tears that rolled down his cheeks were the only manifestation of his misery, but they were enough to touch a beart of stone. In about a minute; it seemed to John a century, the lovely Miss Tyler released her hold and gathered several dozen strands of chestnut hair into a knot.

"No, dear John," she said in her sweetest way, "I ain't mad, I only wanted a tuft of your lovely hair for a summer souvenir. And now dear John, suppose we return,"

Dear John obeyed without a murmur. And that night at a family council, John issued his ultimatum. "Dad," said he, "if there's any more courtin' business to be done round here you've got to do it. I've quit for good."

ARTIFICIAL RUBIES.

BOGUS GEMS SENT FROM GENEVA TO PARISIAN DIAMOND MERCHANTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.--An interesting paper was read last evening before the New York Academy of Sciences by George F. Kunz, the subject being "New Artificial Rubies." He explained that early last summer a syndicate of diamond merchants in Paris was led to suspect that a number of rubies that were offered for sale, from Switzerland were not genuine. They were sent by a well-known house in Geneva and a careful examination, which was speedily made, established the theory that the stones were the product of fusion. Their actual value would not exceed twenty francs; their nominal value as rubies would run from $1,000 to $2,500. The stone had the requisite hardness of the ruby, but was a trifle more brittle, and the color, while not as good as the finest rubies, was still equal to that of fairly good stones. Mr. Kunz said that there is every reason to believe that the new stone is formed by fusing aluminative lead with silica in a sand crucible; the silica takes up the lead oxide and liberates the alumina, which crystallizes in the form of corundulm. It is also evident that some chromium salt is added to give color to the stone.

Happiness and Health

Are important problems, the former depending greatly on the latter. Everyone is familiar with the healthy properties of fruit, and no one can afford to be sick and miserable while the pleasant concentrated liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs may be had of our enterprising druggists, Messrs. Langley & Co. 12dw

THE LATEST NOVEL, "The Heir of the Ages," by James Payne, for sale by T. N. Hibben & Co. *

A SINGULAR PHENOMENON.

A WET SPOT IN GEORGIA.

DAWSON, Ga., Oct. 8.--A wonderful phenomenon may be seen at the home of Mr. M. P. Hoyle, who resides only a few hundred yards beyond the corporate limits of Dawson. It is a constant fall of rain from a cloudless sky. The area of Mr. Hoyle's yard that is covered by the shower is about 25 feet square. Many citizens have been out to see this remarkable freak of nature, and all testify that there is a genuine and ceaseless fall of raindrops. At times the supply of water seems greater than at others. Mr. Hoyle first observed this unusual sight three weeks ago. He cannot explain the mystery.

AN AMUSING little incident recently occurred to a Washington man who had been more abundantly blessed by nature in the matter of brains than with mere facial beauty. The young fellow, who is a great admirer of the fair sex, has been spending the season at the White Sulphur Springs. About a week since, while promenading the long portico about the hotel in company with a pretty girl, he paused for a moment before a group of children. Noticing that his companion singled out one of the little ones upon whom to bestow a caress, he leaned forward with the gallant request that he too would be favored with the privilege of bestowing a kiss. The little maid of three summers looked at him very earnestly for a moment, as though to take in to the fullest extent his unhandsome physiognomy. Then, with a long sigh for the coming ordeal, she put up her mouth, remarking: "Yes, I'll kiss you, I kissed a dog once!"--Washington Capital.

THE STARR KIDNEY PAD.

To Relieve the Suffering.

"The successful firm known as the Starr Kidney Pad Company, of Toronto, are about to introduce their old efficacious and reliable proprietary medicines into this province They manufacture Dr. Starr's Kidney Pads for lame, weak and sore backs, which have been sold long and extensively throughout Manitoba, Ontario, the lower provinces and in England. The cures effected by these pads are said to be marvelous, in relieving and curing those—said to be incurable—diseases known as diabetes and Bright's disease of the kidneys. A leading eastern member of parliament says these pads are certainly the best remedy ever tried in his locality for any kidney or urinary disease. These kidney pads ought to have a large sale in this province, as there are many miners, fishermen and railroad navvies afflicted with kidney disorders, to say nothing of its prevalence among other classes of our people. The same company also manufacture numerous other medicines for the cure of other of the many ills which flesh is heir to. A general agen will be appointed for the province. We wish the company success."—Victoria Daily Times, Sept. 9th, 1886.
